The Declaration of Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions is set to renew for the ULLPOA in June of 2021.

The (CC&Rs) dictate the rules or restrictions the owners of the land must follow as members of the ULLPOA. It is important to note that these documents establish the formal regulations for the Association members. They restrict its use and govern the conduct and activity of its members. This document is the foundation document of the community and establishes the basic rights and responsibilities for each owner, resident and guest. As a member and owner, each individual must abide by the policies of the association and the conditions imposed by the restrictions.

All members are asked for any input as to updates or changes to the CC&Rs. After carefully reviewing this document, if any member has suggestions to be considered by the committee, you must submit these changes in writing.

Please submit them to the POA office email @
